Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

This is the first Office Action for the serial number 10/616,739, SUSPENDING STRUCTURE FOR CEILING FAN, filed on 7/9/03.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over US Patent # 6,520,468 to Lee et al. in view of US Patent # 6,139,279 to Pearce et al.

Lee et al. teaches a suspending structure comprising a mounting bracket (10) with a sunk platform and at the periphery of the same defined with a plurality of openings (4). The sunk platform of the mounting bracket defined with a hole (5) having a gap (9) formed at a side thereof. The mounting bracket is employed to be fixed to wall surface (ceiling). The suspending structure comprises a c-shaped ring (3) employed to be corresponding received in the sunk platform of the mounting bracket. The C-ring having a center with a hole for corresponding to that of the mounting bracket. The structure includes a downrod (21) provided with a motor of ceiling fan (21) and its rod portion being able to pass through the gap of the mounting bracket. The downrod having a cupped suspending element (22a) located at top end thereof. The suspending structure further includes a limiter (7) employed to fix to the mounting bracket and located at outside of the gap of the mounting bracket and a holding piece (8) for positioning control components of the ceiling fan.

Lee et al. teaches all elements above but fails to teach the suspending structure includes a canopy. Pearce et al teaches the canopy (figure 9) being in the shape of a cup and provided with a slot (153). It would have been obvious for one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have added canopy to Lee et al.'s suspending structure as taught by Pearce to cover the mounting bracket and to improve appearance of the suspending structure and also to limit the movement of rod within the canopy.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure:

US Patent # 6,036,154 to Pearce

US Patent # 5,613,832 to Su

US Patent # 6,042,072 to Chi-Nan

US Patent # 6,203,279 to Moody et al.

Pearce, Su, Chi-Nan and Moody et al. teach the mounting bracket for supporting a ceiling fan.
